

Washington, DC – Today, Rep. David Price (D-NC) will join President Barack Obama on a visit to Fort Bragg welcoming troops returning from Iraq. Rep. Price released the following statement this morning:

"I am honored to join President Obama in welcoming our troops home to Fort Bragg," Rep. Price said. "Our fighting men and women from Fort Bragg, and their families here at home, have made immense sacrifices during the war in Iraq. We owe each returning member of every service branch and all our veterans a commitment to ensuring they receive the benefits they've earned."

Rep. Price is a Co-Chair of the House Democracy Partnership \(HDP\), which works with parliaments in developing democracies to expand their capacities. HDP initiated a partnership with the Iraqi parliament in October.
